A1. Introduction

The Joint Committee on Intercollegiate Examinations (JCIE) is responsible, in line with the statutory requirements of the GMC, to the Presidents and through them the Councils of the four surgical Royal Colleges of Great Britain and Ireland, for the supervision of standards, policies, Regulations and professional conduct of the Intercollegiate Specialty Examinations (Specialty Fellowship Examinations). Governance of the JCIE and Intercollegiate Specialty Boards is through the Royal College of Surgeons of Edinburgh.

Success in the examination is a mandatory requirement for surgical trainees working towards the award of Certificate of Completion of Training (CCT) by the GMC or for the award of Certificate of Specialist Doctor (CSD) or Specialist Registration with the Medical Council of Ireland.

The examination Regulations were opened out in November 2006 to allow those not in training to enter the examination and to use success in the examination as evidence when applying to the GMC for entry to the Specialist Register under the CESR route. Applicants must be six years medically qualified (five years for Oral & Maxillofacial Surgery) and must provide evidence of having reached the standard of clinical competence as defined in the Intercollegiate Surgical Curriculum of a day one Consultant in the generality of the specialty. This evidence takes the format of three structured references. All three referees must be on the UK or Irish Register and must have current (within the last two years) working knowledge of the applicant.

The Intercollegiate Specialty Board Secretariat, based in Edinburgh, provides the management infrastructure to support the JCIE, the Internal Quality Assurance (IQA) Committee and its ten Specialty Boards. The Secretariat is responsible for the management and conduct of the Specialty Fellowship Examinations (Section 2) conducted throughout the UK and Ireland. The Secretariat is also responsible for managing and hosting the Section 1 MCQ Question Banks, and the Section 2 Oral Question Banks (clinical scenarios for case based discussions) and for providing support to examiners and question writers.

The JCIE is also responsible to the Presidents and through them the Councils of the four Surgical Royal Colleges of Great Britain and Ireland, for the supervision of standards, policies, Regulations and professional conduct of the Joint Surgical Colleges Fellowship Examinations (Specialty Fellowship Examinations).

The Intercollegiate Surgical Curriculum Programme (ISCP) is responsible for the on-going development of the curricula and the Joint Committee on Surgical Training (JCST) is responsible for the training programmes.

A2. Aim of the Joint Committee on Intercollegiate Examinations (JCIE)

The aim of the JCIE is to ensure that there is a professional examination system in place which will assess and report fairly and conscientiously whether a candidate possesses the knowledge and necessary practical abilities in diagnosis and planning of care to meet the required standard. The standard is the level of a day one Consultant in the generality of the specialty in UK and Ireland.

The JCIE is supported by ten Intercollegiate Specialty Boards, one for each of the following surgical specialties:

- Cardiothoracic Surgery
- General Surgery
- Neurosurgery
- Oral & Maxillofacial Surgery
- Otolaryngology
- Paediatric Surgery
- Plastic Surgery
- Trauma & Orthopaedic Surgery
- Urology
- Vascular Surgery

The Boards are responsible to the JCIE for maintaining/developing the format, scope, conduct and blueprinting of the specialty examinations and for ensuring the examinations are conducted in a fair, objective and reproducible manner using a broad range of assessment tools such as Multiple Choice Questions in Single Best Answer (SBA) format (Section 1) and Clinical Examinations with and without patients (Section 2).

Examiners will be appointed, in open competition, by each Specialty Board after consideration of applications received in response to advertisements placed in College Journals and via the Specialty Associations (or otherwise) and approved by the Joint Committee on Intercollegiate Examinations. Appointments are for a period of 5 years commencing from the date of their first examination. Examiners who complete 5 years on the Panel may be invited, at the discretion of the Board, to continue for a further and final period of up to 5 years. Appointment to the Panel Examiners would preclude the Examiner from any involvement or participation in crammer examination revision courses and applicants must be prepared to relinquish any such involvement. However, the rule does not preclude Examiners from teaching their own trainees as part of their normal training commitment. In such circumstances Examiners would not examine their own trainees in the examination. Examiners will automatically retire from the Panel of Examiners when they no longer have a licence to practise. Examiners who retire from clinical practice and providing they have renewed their licence to practise in advance of retirement, are permitted to continue to examine for three years' post-retirement.

As an examiner for the JCIE, there is a requirement that you are in 'good standing' with the GMC. If you are not in 'good standing' with the GMC, you must inform the JCIE Head of Operations. For our purposes, 'not in good standing' and 'under investigation' refers to either an interim order being issued and/or conditions or restrictions having been placed on practice by the GMC or employer and/or suspension from the workplace.

Criteria for Appointment to the Panels of Examiners

Applicants are required to provide two supportive structured references, one from the Chief Executive/Medical Director [with regard to Trust approval for examination commitments] and the other from either the Chair of the Surgical Training Committee or the Regional Training Programme Director [with regard to the applicant's teaching, training and examining abilities].
